This Lent and Easter season, CCO facilitators will be hosting groups on the first two books of the series. You can explore God's loving plan for your salvation and develop a deeper appreciation of the power of the Holy Spirit. There are two groups forming:

Social Justice

Letter of the Holy Father Francis to the Bishops of the United States of America

Dear Brothers in the Episcopate,
I am writing today to address a few words to you in these delicate moments that you are living as Pastors of the People of God who walk together in the United States of America.

1. The journey from slavery to freedom that the People of Israel traveled, as narrated in the Book of Exodus, invites us to look at the reality of our time, so clearly marked by the phenomenon of migration, as a decisive moment in history to reaffirm not only our faith in a God who is always close, incarnate, migrant and refugee, but also the infinite and transcendent dignity of every human person. [1]

2. These words with which I begin are not an artificial construct. Even a cursory examination of the Church's social doctrine emphatically shows that Jesus Christ is the true Emmanuel (cf. Mt 1:23); he did not live apart from the difficult experience of being expelled from his own land because of an imminent risk to his life, and from the experience of having to take refuge in a society and a culture foreign to his own. The Son of God, in becoming man, also chose to live the drama of immigration. I like to recall, among other things, the words with which Pope Pius XII began his Apostolic Constitution on the Care of Migrants, which is considered the "Magna Carta" of the Church's thinking on migration:

"The family of Nazareth in exile, Jesus, Mary and Joseph, emigrants in Egypt and refugees there to escape the wrath of an ungodly king, are the model, the example and the consolation of emigrants and pilgrims of every age and country, of all refugees of every condition who, beset by persecution or necessity, are forced to leave their homeland, beloved family and dear friends for foreign lands." [2]

3. Likewise, Jesus Christ, loving everyone with a universal love, educates us in the permanent recognition of the dignity of every human being, without exception. In fact, when we speak of "infinite and transcendent dignity," we wish to emphasize that the most decisive value possessed by the human person surpasses and sustains every other juridical consideration that can be made to regulate life in society. Thus, all the Christian faithful and people of good will are called upon to consider the legitimacy of norms and public policies in the light of the dignity of the person and his or her fundamental rights, not vice versa.

4. I have followed closely the major crisis that is taking place in the United States with the initiation of a program of mass deportations. The rightly formed conscience cannot fail to make a critical judgment and express its disagreement with any measure that tacitly or explicitly identifies the illegal status of some migrants with criminality. At the same time, one must recognize the right of a nation to defend itself and keep communities safe from those who have committed violent or serious crimes while in the country or prior to arrival. That said, the act of deporting people who in many cases have left their own land for reasons of extreme poverty, insecurity, exploitation, persecution or serious deterioration of the environment, damages the dignity of many men and women, and of entire families, and places them in a state of particular vulnerability and defenselessness.

5. This is not a minor issue: an authentic rule of law is verified precisely in the dignified treatment that all people deserve, especially the poorest and most marginalized. The true common good is promoted when society and government, with creativity and strict respect for the rights of all — as I have affirmed on numerous occasions — welcomes, protects, promotes and integrates the most fragile, unprotected and vulnerable. This does not impede the development of a policy that regulates orderly and legal migration. However, this development cannot come about through the privilege of some and the sacrifice of others. What is built on the basis of force, and not on the truth about the equal dignity of every human being, begins badly and will end badly.

6. Christians know very well that it is only by affirming the infinite dignity of all that our own identity as persons and as communities reaches its maturity. Christian love is not a concentric expansion of interests that little by little extend to other persons and groups. In other words: the human person is not a mere individual, relatively expansive, with some philanthropic feelings! The human person is a subject with dignity who, through the constitutive relationship with all, especially with the poorest, can gradually mature in his identity and vocation. The true ordo amoris that must be promoted is that which we discover by meditating constantly on the parable of the “Good Samaritan” (cf. Lk 10:25-37), that is, by meditating on the love that builds a fraternity open to all, without exception. [3]

7. But worrying about personal, community or national identity, apart from these considerations, easily introduces an ideological criterion that distorts social life and imposes the will of the strongest as the criterion of truth.

8. I recognize your valuable efforts, dear brother bishops of the United States, as you work closely with migrants and refugees, proclaiming Jesus Christ and promoting fundamental human rights. God will richly reward all that you do for the protection and defense of those who are considered less valuable, less important or less human!

9. I exhort all the faithful of the Catholic Church, and all men and women of good will, not to give in to narratives that discriminate against and cause unnecessary suffering to our migrant and refugee brothers and sisters. With charity and clarity we are all called to live in solidarity and fraternity, to build bridges that bring us ever closer together, to avoid walls of ignominy and to learn to give our lives as Jesus Christ gave his for the salvation of all.

10. Let us ask Our Lady of Guadalupe to protect individuals and families who live in fear or pain due to migration and/or deportation. May the “Virgen morena”, who knew how to reconcile peoples when they were at enmity, grant us all to meet again as brothers and sisters, within her embrace, and thus take a step forward in the construction of a society that is more fraternal, inclusive and respectful of the dignity of all.

Fraternally,
Francis

Mary, Mother of the Church

A Minute with Jesus

We need God's help to believe. The Eucharist is beyond our ability to grasp fully. The Eucharist is a mystery, which means we would not know this is Jesus' Body and Blood without the Lord specifically saying these words to us in Scripture. We can understand this mystery to an extent, but not fully because this mystery is of God, Who is infinite.

Let's pray this right now and every day this week: Jesus, please open my heart to believe that You are truly present in the Holy Eucharist.

FORMED

During Lent, many of us attempt to fast from chocolate, soda and social media, but when Easter arrives it can be easy to fall back into our old habits. The truth is, Lent is more than a list of sacrifices. It's an invitation to journey through the desert with Jesus, where He can work on renewing our hearts and minds. This transformation invites us to experience Easter as a moment of true joy and new life in Christ. FORMED is offering a four-part series entitled "How to Lent" that will help you plan and prepare for Lent. You will hear from priests and parishioners on what it means to understand prayer, fasting, and almsgiving and see how you can enter this season with greater intention. Visit www.formed.org, Click Sign up and search for "Mary, Mother of the Church La-Crosse," and provide your email address to register.

Mosaic of Divine Mercy

On January 1, the Solemnity of Mary, Mother of God, Fr. Konopa announced the commissioning of a new mosaic to be installed in the Sacred Heart niche (south side of church) featuring the image of Divine Mercy. The image of Jesus will fill the central panel, and the side panels will have symbols of the Corporal Works of Mercy and Spiritual Works of Mercy. Fr. Konopa explained the inclusion of the Corporal and Spiritual Works of Mercy in this way, "When the mercy of Jesus comes into our hearts, then we need to bring that mercy into the world."

Why the change?

The Divine Mercy mosaic will complement our mosaic of Mary, Mother of the Church in many ways. The wood framing and blue background of the mosaics will match. The rays coming from the heart of Jesus will mirror the rays from the Holy Spirit, and the medallions depicting the Corporal and Spiritual Works of Mercy will mirror the tongues of fire.

Originally, the niche with the mosaic of Mary, Mother of the Church was a confessional. After Father James Falconer (pastor of St. Thomas More 1976-1988) died unexpectedly while pastor, a statue of Jesus and the Children was installed in his honor. He was a strong supporter of Catholic Education and taught at Aquinas High School for many years. The statue was a tribute to his welcoming nature to children. Over the years, an image of Divine Mercy was added to its west wall. In 2018, the statue was moved to the lower level of the Faith Formation Center to add a welcoming feature for the children. Following its removal, a larger canvas print of Divine Mercy was purchased and placed in the niche; however, it was removed when the mosaic was installed in 2024. Devotion to Divine Mercy has gained more momentum in recent years. In 2000, St. Pope John Paul II added "Divine Mercy Sunday" to the liturgical calendar on the Second Sunday of Easter. As the devotion to Divine Mercy grows, it is worthwhile returning to a permanent image in our church.

This mosaic is made possible by the generosity of a parishioner who wanted to make a significant gift to the parish. The $85,000 donation will cover the creation and installation of the mosaic and a portion of the renovations. Once again, the artists at Inspired Artisans from Milwaukee have been commissioned for this work. To see more of their beautiful work, please visit their website, www.inspiredart.com. Their artistry is truly inspiring!

The Building Fund will cover the majority of the $29,000 expenditures of renovating the niches. A significant cost will be removing the metallic gold tiles and covering the wall with limestone panels from the same quarry as the panels in the Mary, Mother of the Church niche. New lighting will be installed in both niches.

Fowler & Hammer has been hired for the renovation work, and HSR (the architect for Building Our Future Together) is assisting with a dignified relocation of the Sacred Heart statue to an open wall in the hallway of the Parish Hall. Stay tuned for the design plan in an upcoming bulletin article.

As mentioned above, the work on the mosaic has already begun. The images have been sketched and approved, and the mosaic tiles are being cut and placed by the artists in Italy. We hope to have it installed in early April so it may be blessed on Saturday, April 5, at the 4 PM Mass. Not only would this be in place for our parish's Silver Jubilee (April 9, 2000), but it would also be in place for the traditional Divine Mercy Novena, which begins on Good Friday, April 18.

Next week's bulletin article will discuss the history of the image of Divine Mercy, the promises associated with devotion to Divine Mercy, and an update on the process.
